CLASS WILL

To whom it may concern:

We, the class of 1950, being about to pass out of this ephere of our life and realizing the condition of our minds, do make and publish this our last will and testament; hereby making void all former wills or promises by us at any time made.

Section I

- Item 1. To Mr. Auman, our principal, goes the friendship and fondest memories to treasure and cherish forever.
- Item 2. To the faculty, who probably breathes a sigh of relief, goes the wish that they may now have more happy school days.

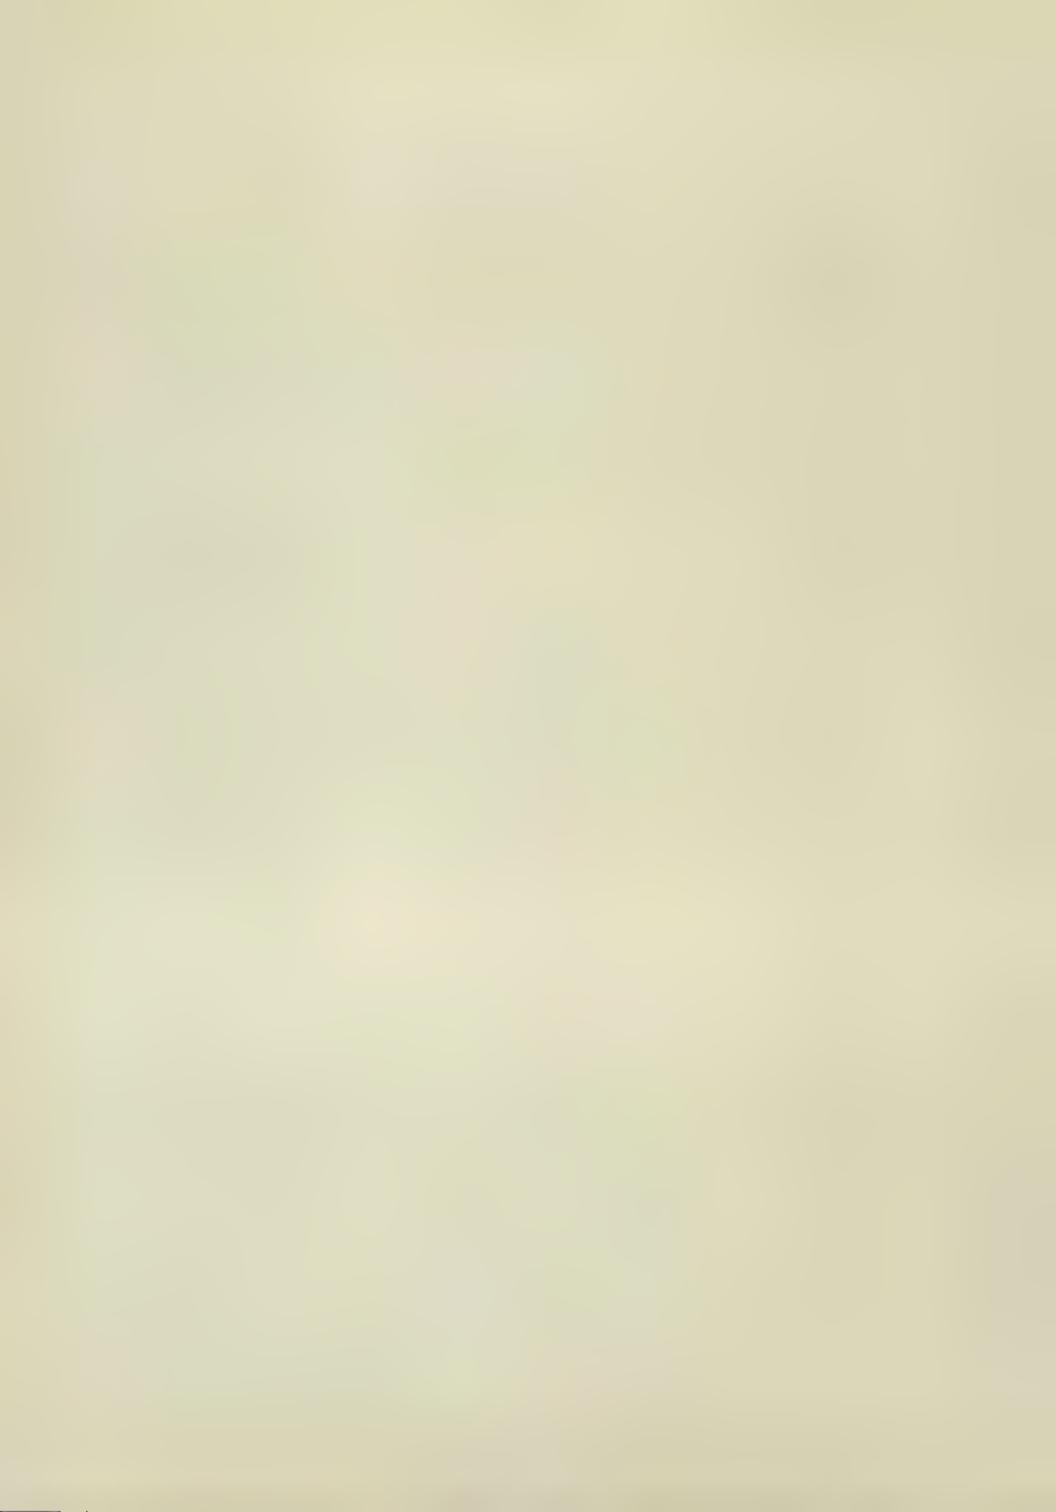

Section II

- Item 1. To the Juniors goes the wish that they will, next year advance to the much coveted place of the Seniors.
- Item 2. To the Sophomores, we leave our sophistication and leadership that might help them to uphold their new position as Juniors.
- Item 3. To the Preshman Classes, goes all the cude of chewing gum that may be stuck under the desks, chairs, and other available places.

Section III

The following may seem but trifling bequests but we hope they will be accepted, not as worthless things because we can no longer keep them, but as valuable assets to those who may receive them:

- Item 1. Margaret Shepherd wills her bookkeeping ability to Wayne Watkins.
- Item 2. To Joyce Lloyd goes Betty Myers' large but stately figure.
- Item 3. To Mrs. Taylor, Franklin Freeman leaves all his extra English credit, so she may distribute it among those who need it.
- Item 4. Reba O'Briant wills her ability to play all sports to Gladys Maynard.
- Item 5. Johnny Moshides wills his football record to anyone who can face it.
- Item 6. Alma Harward wishes to leave her 22 inch waist line to Shirley Markham.
- Item 7. Roy Cooke wishes to leave to Jack Perry his manly, well-built body.
- Item 8. Jean Randolph wills her advice and council about marriage to Dorothy Elliott who is about to enter the Holy Band of Matrimony.
- Item 9. David Wrenn is going to be very generous and leave his good looks to Winifred Stallings.
- Item 10. Mary Green wants Paye Wrenn to take her seat in the Senior Class and see if it will affect her grades.
- Item 11. Guy Basden wishes to leave to Ray Noell some of his wisecracks, hoping they will brighten his future.
- Item 12. Billie Jean Martin wants Jean Bryant to take and treasure her sweet disposition.
- Item 13. Les Rhew leaves his ability to show off to Troy Bowling.
- Item 14. Frances Fletcher wills her ability to drive well to Eugene Baker.
- Item 15. Charlotte Wynne wishes to leave her ability to lead cheers to Joan Maynor.
- Item 16. To whomever needs it, Mary Helen Clegg wills her ability to make friends.

CLASS WILL CONTINUED

- Item 17. Warren Watkins wills his shyness, but not Azille, to Bennie Greenhill.
- Item 18. Helen Keck leaves her ability to talk to Thelma Cooke.
- Item 19. Louis Shambley wills his nick name "Strongman" to James Massingill.
- Item 20. Margie Jackson wills ner ballet shoes to Orpah Mae Granville.
- Item 21. Betty Letwer leaves her motto, "I can do it" to anyone who thinks she can do it justice.

Testatrix, Betty Lewter

CLASS HISTORY

Just as all good things must end, so must school. We are now standing on the threshold of a "New Life" for which school has so efficiently prepared us. Now, as we are about to pass through these doors of wisdom for the last time, let us remember:

We have learned many a lesson; we have worked many a problem. We have fought our battles and we have won. We may have given our teachers many a worry or an occasional smile, but no class has worked so many wonders as this unusual "class of '50".

Now let us turn back the tables of time and see what we, the class of '50 has done.

We entered school in 1938; a group of normal and healthy youngsters. Insignificantly, we marched through the years and in time out the doors of Elementary Understanding. During this time our number decreased, but we grew steadily in mind and body.

In the fall of '46, we entered nigh school—a proud group of freshman under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Morgan. This was a rather uneventful year, but at least we completed the first step of high school learning.

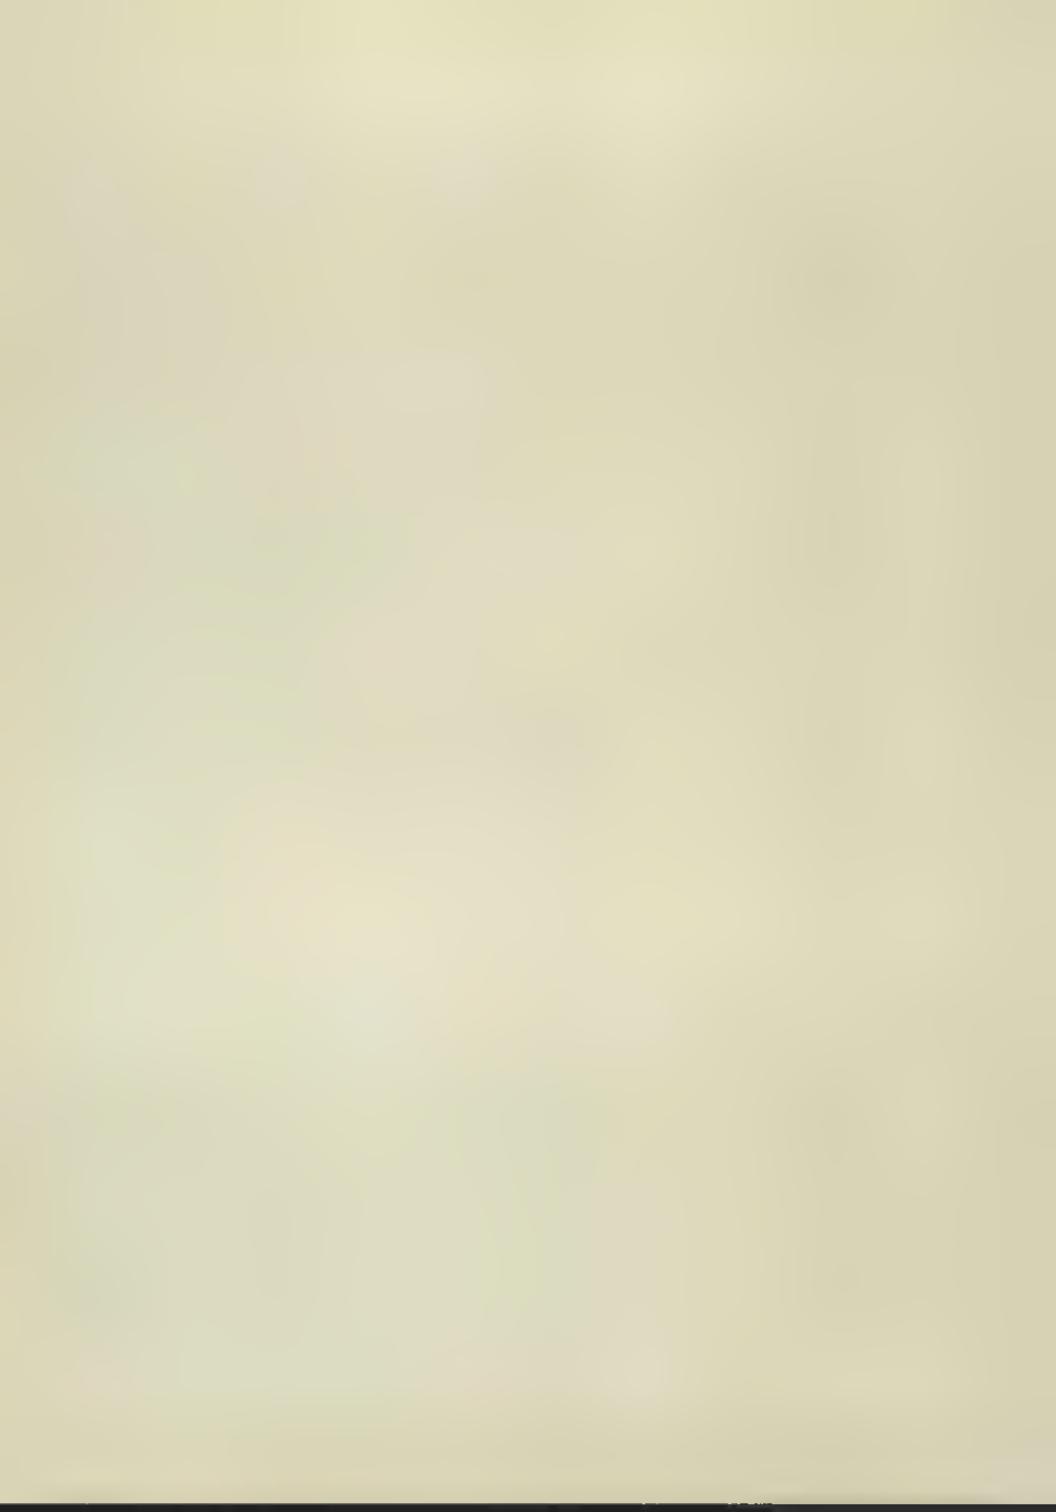

Mr. G. A. Ranes welcomed our group of hustling sophomores in the fall of '47. This year several of our members were invited to join the Lowe's Grove Chapter of the National Beta Club.

The Junior Class was under the supervision of Mr. O. K. Goodwin in '49. We were a more settled class then and really began to work. In the spring we gave a Junior Minstrel to raise money for the "Junior Senior Banquet". Both the Minstrel and the Banquet were most successful. Perhaps, the happiest day during our Junior Year was that day when our class rings arrived.

In the fall of '49 we found ourselves standing on the edge of the last step of high school education. This year our group was a small, cooperative one, but under the wide and faithful guidance of Mrs. Powers we accomplished much. Our first project of the year was the Halloween Carmival. Thanks to the students, teachers, and P. T. A. members, it was a great success. A few weeks after this we ordered our invitations. Plans were made for the senior play.

Looking back over the years, we can see that school has been a glorious and wondrous experience. As we stand now with tear dimmed eyes, looking towards a new and bright horizon, we sadly say good-bye to our dear Lowe's Grove High.

Roy Cooke, Historian

Well, all of the class of 150 did graduate, so we decide to go down town and visit them. The time is 1450, ten years after the class of 150 has graduated. We are strolling down the street trinking about the class of '50 when all. of a sudden, someone dashes out of a Modern Fawn Shop and drags us into the store. We look around, lo and behold! it is Guy Basden who now has a Pawn Shop of his own. After we have chatted with Giv, we go on down the street. As we go pass the Colonial Store we see a very familiar face, so we stop to get a better look. Oh: No, it is Louis Shampley. He is still a clerk in the store won't that boy ever get a promotion? When we start across the street a truck barely misses us and we recognize the driver as Franklin Freeman who now has a saw mill of his own. As we journey on we meet North Carolina Senator warren Watkins who greets us merrily with a grin. he seems to be dring all right for himself. Senater Watkins tells us that he has just visited Fillie . ean Martin Hodges who is in the hospital with her newly born son-the third, we bid farewell to our dearly beloved Senator and proceed on down the street. We decide we ought to get a few records for evening entertainment. As we enter the music store, the owner greets us. At first we do not recognize the pertleman for he has a long mustache and sideburns; but in just a few minutes we find that it is Marion Lee Rhew who has dyed his hair. He asks us if we would like to meet his wife. This is the biggest surprise of all because he introduces his wife as Mrs. Betty Lewter Rhew, we chit with Mrs. Enew for awhile bef re we continue our journey through town.

Since we are up town we might as well stop in at the courthouse and see a few of our friends. we are surprised at nothing in late even that of finding a woman Captain of Detectives. Jur old friend Betty Myers seems to be serving ably in this capacity. We discuss some of her latest cases and we start on down the hall when "jumping jehosephat" we meet my looks-new Jorporal key Jooke of the Traffic I division. We find that Roy is married and has two little privates of his own. we leave Roy and board the elevator. Thinking I recognize the elevator operator I ask her name. She replies that she is Frances Fletcher Baker. She says she is running the elevator to be near her husband who is brought to the courthouse quite often for traffic violation. She doesn't like Corporal Cooks. However, we bid farewell to Frances and get off the elevator. There is a large crowd starting into Recorder's Court so we go in to hear some of the trials. As we walk in I am shocked beyond mention for there is David wrenn, who is presiding judge in the case. After the court is closed we go up to see David at the bench and he invites us up to his office. There we find Mary Helen Glenn, David's private secretary. After exchanging a few greetings we leave his Honor Wrenn and start out of the court when we meet Judge Margaret Cannon Shepherd who is County Juvenile Jourt Judge. The is in a hurry so we only have a brief conversation. We decide we should get something to est, we go into "Margie's Grill and Fountain". We didn't ever think that Margie, the owner of the grill was our own Margie Jackson of 150. But Margie sees us and she comes over with a hamburger in each hand and a milk shake balanced on her head. She tells us about how she trapped "Jimmie" into marrying her. She is so glad to see us that she gives us the meal free. By the way, Marris is getting her eggs for the restaurant from another classmate of 150, Jean Randolph Sears, who has a lot acre chicken farm and five children.

As we leave "Margie's" we see a sign "If you need a mate see Charlotte Wynne of the "Lonely Hearts "lub", we walk on down the street and see Johnny Moshides who is taking his fifth Post Grains's ourse at the University of North Carolina. Johnny says he has been playing sports for U. N. C. for ten years and they haven't won a game yet. We leave Johnny and are about to board a bus for home but when it stops about twenty children from three to ten jump off and form a line. At the rear of the line is a motherly-type woman. We look at her and she looks like, but no, it can't be! Yes, it is, Helen Keck O'Briant-now Superintendent of Wright's Refuse. She let her love for children run away with her. When we get on the bus we sit benind a woman reading an encyclopedia. As we look closer we find that it is Mary Freene. Mary tells us that she is now a teacher at Duke iniversity. We are chatting with Mary when all of a sudden the bus comes to a stop and I get up to give the bus driver a piece of my mind when I recognize the driver as none other than Alma Harward, who tells me she been waiting for Raymond to pop the question. We leave the bus and start walking toward our home when we pass a playground. We see a woman teaching children acrobatics and as we look closer we find it is Reba O'Briant who is now a Physical Education Director.

Well, thank goodness this day is over. We have visited all our classmates and friends. We now feel that the day has been worth-while.
